

<Marine Life Rearing Log>

9 AM, September 7, 2023

Weather: Sunny

Water temperature: 18.2°C

It has been almost a year since we started rearing flounder to check the impacts of ALPS treated water. The fish have grown accustomed to their keepers, and when they see their keepers, they wriggle on the bottom of the water. When we put our hands on the water's surface, they rise to the surface and start swimming around, and some of them even solicit food.

Check out the video on X (former Twitter).

<https://twitter.com/TEPCOfishkeeper>